‘Son of a Gambler’ Man’: Identity on the Plains

March 25-27, 2010
Chadron State College

Featuring Mari Sandoz’s 1960 novel highlighting the life of Robert Henri, renowned artist in the early 1900s. Robert Henri was born Robert Henry Cozad— his father founded Cozad, Nebraska. Robert hid his father’s checkered past along with his name as he made a reputation for himself in the art world. Sandoz’ book, “Son of a Gambler’ Man,” tells the story of Henri and his life on the frontier. Join us as we look at issues of identity, family, and art at the Mari Sandoz High Plains Heritage Center.
